GREETINGS TO PRESIDENT Cable Day Celebration

THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
Washington.

MR. PRESIDENT:—The people of the Territory of Hawaii send their greetings to you and express their gratification at the inauguration of telegraphic communication with the Mainland. We all believe that the removal of the disadvantage of isolation will prove a strong factor in the upbuilding of a patriotic and progressive American Commonwealth in these Islands.

HENRY E. COOPER,
Secretary of Hawaii.Congressman Newland's
Message To Territory

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2, 1902.

To BULLETIN, Honolulu.

Cordial greetings to people of Hawaii and congratulations on closer ties to the republic. I trust that enlightened judgment will gradually so change Hawaii's industrial condition as to promote small holdings, create individualized homes, and develop the sturdy and intelligent citizenship of those who labor, on all of which republican institutions depend.

FRANCIS G. NEWLAND.

REPUBLICANS TO PRESIDENT.

THE PRESIDENT, Washington, D. C.

Hawaiian Republicans congratulate you upon the successful laying of the Pacific cable under Republican administration both at the Capital and in this distant Island Territory.

CLARENCE L. CRABBE,
Chairman.

MERCHANTS TO MERCHANTS.

THE MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION OF SAN FRANCISCO.

Our fraternal greetings upon the completion of the electric bond of communication between the metropolis of the Pacific Coast and the Capital of the mid-ocean. We extend to you our felicitations upon the increased trade facilities which are opened by the Commercial Pacific Cable amid assurances of our hearty belief that in the new development of the commerce of this ocean, the merchants of the Pacific Coast will bear the brunt of battles and wear the laurels of victory. The closer relations presaged by this new union we consider of the first importance as bearing upon our future as well as your own, and we express anew our greetings and congratulations.

THE MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION OF HONOLULU.

By Its President, F. W. MACFARLANE.

PRESIDENT MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Honolulu.

Merchants of San Francisco send greetings. All praise to the enterprise of Mr. Mackay and his cable company for giving us this boon of commercial unity.

G. W. MCNEAR,
President.

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION OF HONOLULU.

F. W. MACFARLANE, President.

The Merchants' Association of San Francisco sends cordial greetings to its brother association in Honolulu and hailing the dawn of a day which unites us in closer ties of friendship rejoices also at the opportunities for an enlarged field of usefulness to each.

THE MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION OF SAN FRANCISCO.

FRANK J. SYMMES, President.

COMMERCE CHAMBERS.

TO THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF THE CITY OF SAN FRANCISCO.

The great ally and friend of the commercial interests of Hawaii, for the past half century, the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu sends fraternal greetings and congratulates you, the leading commercial body of the Pacific Slope, upon the completion of the cable to our shores, which has in an hour overcome our isolation and drawn us to the very gates of the Pacific Coast.

CABLE CELEBRATION BALL

The Cable Ball will open at the Executive building with the reception by Secretary and Mrs. Cooper at 8 o'clock this evening. Preparations were in progress all morning under direction of the various committees. What was stated yesterday as coming from Secretary Cooper, may be repeated now—that any citizens whose invitations do not reach them before the event are cordially invited to be present.

"MARITANA" REHEARSAL.

"Maritana" rehearsals will be resumed again Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Elks hall, Beretania and Miller streets. A few more rehearsals will put the opera in shape for the stage.

The place to get pure Kona coffee is at C. J. Day's grocery, 25c per lb.

Premontory dash-and-dot whistles from the Hawaiian Electric Company's power house shortly after one o'clock this afternoon was the general public notice given of the mass meeting in Capitol park for opening the Cable Day celebration.

Many citizens took the signal for an immediate summons and hied to the rendezvous only to go away again when they discovered their mistake.

At a quarter to 2 o'clock perhaps 50 stragglers were assembled in the grounds. Captain Berger was ahead of time with his usual punctuality, ready to start the band at any moment.

Within a few minutes the patrol wagon arrived containing a platoon of police, to act as a guard of honor, under command of Senior Captain Parker.

By ten minutes to the opening hour citizens were to be seen coming from every direction. There was little doubt left that a large assemblage would be present close to the beginning of exercises.

The speaking was appointed to take place from the band stand.

It was at about 2:10 o'clock that Hon. Henry E. Cooper and the speakers mounted the band stand. Those who composed the party were as follows: Hon. Henry E. Cooper, Superintendent of Public Works, acting in behalf of Governor Dole, and as Secretary of Secretary of the Territory; Hon. A. S. Hartwell, Commissioner.

Eustis, Henry E. Highton, S. S. Dickenson, Superintendent of the Commercial Pacific Cable Company; T. Trebell, cable expert; Captain Morton of the cable-ship Silvertown; W. W. Hall, Jas. Nott Jr., John E. Bush, Collector of Customs E. R. Stackable, George W. Smith, L. A. Thurston, Hon. Samuel Parker, Dr. J. S. McGrew, Prince David Kawanakoa, F. W. Macfarlane, C. M. Cooke, F. A. Schaefer, Senator Clarence L. Crabbe, George R. Carter, Chief Justice Frear, Auditor J. H. Fisher, Henry Waterhouse, B. F. Dillingham, Andrew Brown, J. A. Kennedy, Postmaster General Oat, 4 H. Pratt, A. T. Atkinson, J. G. Spencer, Marston Campbell, W. W. Harris, Geo. Davies, C. B. Dwight, T. Clive Davies, T. M. Swamy, Attorney General Dole, T. F. Lansing, W. L. Stanley, E. D. Moore, Dr. C. B. Cooper, Dr. Cofor, Lewis G. Martin, J. F. Hackfeld and representatives of the press.

There was a large proportion of ladies in the concourse of 1,500 people in front of the speaker's stand. Among the faces of citizens recognized at a casual glance were those of Jos. S. Emerson, Emmet May, C. J. Campbell, W. Roth, J. H. Wilson, G. W. R. King, Thos. G. Thrum, W. C. Parke, Chas. F. Herriek, W. W. Thayer, C. R. Hemenway, A. G. M. Robertson, Arthur Mackintosh, T. W. Hobson, Prof. W. D. Alexander, W. A. Bowen, E. O. White, Judge Lyle A. Dickey, W. H. Baird, Mark P. Robinson, Thos. S. Douglas, Henry Hapal, A. C. Lovick, H. W. Schmidt, F. E. Nichols, Frank INSERT NAMES.

S. Dodge, J. H. Craig, Prof. M. M. Scott, Robert H. Ryeroff, Robert L. Scott, William I. Forbes, A. M. Webb, W. H. Cornwell, E. C. Winston, Prof. C. J. Lyons, W. L. Howard, J. H. Schnack, B. Ordenslein, Rev. O. H. Gulick, John Kidwell, E. G. Keen, Mr. Taggart, Judge Geo. D. Gear, W. O. Smith, Rev. O. P. Emerson, F. J. Testa, James L. McLean.

Geo. W. Smith opened the speaking by saying that they were gathered to celebrate one of the most momentous events in the history of the Hawaiian Islands. It was fitting that the people should assemble to rejoice over the consummation of telegraphic communication with the outer world. Immediately upon the completion of the cable last night a congratulatory message was forwarded to President Roosevelt, who had been pleased to send a cordial reply. Mr. Henry E. Cooper would read these messages.

Mr. Cooper then introduced Superintendent S. S. Dickenson, who spoke as follows:

Mr. Secretary, Members of the Committee, Ladies and Gentlemen.—As the representative of the Commercial Pacific Cable Co. I beg to thank you for your hearty welcome and kindly greeting through you, to the citizens of the Territory of Hawaii. Your kind greetings will be by me transmitted to Clarence W. Mackay, George G. Ward and the executive of the Trans-Pacific Cable.

At this point Mr. Cooper read the President's message. His remarks follow:

We meet today to celebrate the completion of the enterprise that has removed the greatest disadvantage under which we have lived.

By the inauguration of telegraphic communication with the Mainland we become intimately associated with the rest of the world, and messages of political and commercial importance, joy and sorrow, success and failure, will come to us over the cable that has just been landed on our shores, but the main result will be a decided influence in favor of the upbuilding of a patriotic and progressive American Commonwealth in these Islands.

We extend a hearty welcome to the good ship Silvertown, her officers and crew, who have safely brought the cable half round the globe and have spanned the Pacific ocean from San Francisco to Honolulu.

To all who have been connected with the enterprise we give our heartfelt thanks, but above all we offer our tribute to remember the man whose genius and business tact gave us the cable, and amid our rejoicing there is mingled a sincere regret that he did not live to see his project completed. The name of John W. Mackay will always be held in fond remembrance by all our people.

Just one word for the future. By the laying of this cable we have added another spoke to our wheel of fortune. Another will be added when the cable is laid connecting us with the Philippines and the Orient many miles of which have already been made. We may safely expect to be served in the near future by a connecting link with the All Red line between Vancouver and the British Colonies.

And, finally, the opening of the canal across the Isthmus will make us a center of travel and commerce and the Hub of the Pacific Ocean.

At 2:30 o'clock and immediately upon the completion of the reading of the message, the cannons of the Capitol grounds began to boom forth the salute of one hundred guns during which the band played "The Star Spangled Banner" several times, the great concourse of people stood with bare heads and the detail of police on the grounds saluted.

Amid the gun-firing and band playing, old Kawaihoo church bell rang in a joyous peal.

Dr. McGrew was induced by the committee to make a few remarks, in addition to the speeches previously arranged for. Dr. McGrew was introduced by Chairman Smith as the first annexationist. He spoke in substance as follows:

"The First Annexationist."

I didn't come prepared to make any remarks. I am, however, delighted at the kind introduction. I have been here thirty-six years and thirty of that time have been given to what I thought to be for the benefit and good of Hawaii. It was quite a struggle, I might say, to be an American a few years ago but I am happy to say that things have gradually worked around until we are all Americans. Our efforts were sometimes very much condemned. I am, however, so glad to see so many enjoying the labors not only of myself but of all annexationists. I hope to live to see the day when we may have the canal so that this will indeed be the center of the Pacific.

After a selection by the band, Hon. A. S. Hartwell was introduced. He spoke as follows:

ADDRESS OF
A. S. HARTWELL

The greatest event in the history of Hawaii has occurred today. Now we have entered into the larger life of the outer world! Its rich blood courses

Hawaii, Honolulu.

The President sends through you to Governor Dole and the people of Hawaii his hearty congratulations upon the opening of the cable. He believes that it will tend to make the people of Hawaii more closely connected than ever to their fellow citizens of the Mainland and will be for the great advantage of all our people.

GEO. B. CORTELYOU,
Secretary to the President.

Judge Estee received a number of congratulatory cablegrams from friends early this forenoon. He has kindly allowed the Bulletin to copy the following from Senator Perkins of California:

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.
Hon. M. M. Estee, United States Judge
Honolulu.

Accept my cordial greetings and congratulations upon completion of electric cable that binds in imperishable union the Hawaiian Islands to our common country.

STOCK EXCHANGE.

The Honolulu Stock and Bond Exchange this morning received the following cablegram from the Exchange in San Francisco:

San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange sends greeting and congratulations.
R. J. BROWN,
President.

The local Exchange replied with the following message:
Stock and Bond Exchange, San Francisco.

HONOLULU STOCK AND BOND EXCHANGE.

JAMES F. MORGAN,
President.

tumultuously through our veins, we can hardly stop to look back.

And yet Hawaii has tender memories for its past and that is why a few minutes are given now to its cable history.

It is not the fortune of those who tried years ago to establish telegraphic communication between Hawaii and the rest of the world, to tell today the story of efforts crowned with success; but the fact remains that vigorous efforts were made on which high hopes were built, and who knows but those who took part in those early efforts did the work of pioneers to blaze the way in which others have walked?

From a purely business point of view it is only a very few years since the establishment of a telegraphic cable between Honolulu and San Francisco has been regarded as worthy of consideration by cable experts. Until the recent development of trade with China and Japan any one who attempted to secure a submarine telegraph cable in the Pacific Ocean had an opportunity to learn what leading a forlorn hope was like. There were kind and sympathetic words for him from all quarters. Those who take part in a forlorn hope are usually encouraged and thought kindly of by those who are looking on. But the experience and note the cable came.

The Atlantic ocean had its telegraph cables which came into existence because there was business to support them. There were cables which kept England, France and Germany in contact with their distant colonial possessions, and which were constructed and maintained by the aid of heavy subsidies from their respective governments. A glance at the map showing all the telegraph cables of the world disclosed the power of the British empire and the wisdom of those who controlled its destinies; but there was not a single line of cable in which the United States had the slightest interest.

The Pacific Ocean was as innocent of cables as the pond of a country village. From a political point of view, as well as commercial, there were men in Hawaii who had long felt the need of Hawaii for telegraphic communication with the outer world. California was so identified in business interests with Hawaii that its public men and organizations were always ready to urge upon the California delegation in Congress the passage of cable measures, but neither in Hawaii nor at the Coast
